The Center for Services Leadership

Who We Are

The Center for Services Leadership is a groundbreaking research center within the W. P. Carey School of Business at Arizona State University that concentrates on expanding service innovation by combining the latest scientific insights from the academic world with the best of business strategy in the real world.

The CSL was created in 1985 as a response to the unique set of challenges that companies faced. While others were focusing on products and manufacturing enterprises, the CSL pioneered the study of service. Today, the Center is globally recognized authority and thought leader in the science of competing strategically through the profitable use of service.

Core Strategies

- To conduct and support relevant, meaningful, and rigorous research to advance the science of service across disciplines.
- To provide access to knowledge and knowledge transfer related to the science of service for professionals and students (UG, Masters and PhD).
- To connect and facilitate productive relationships among academic, industry and societal leaders to advance the theory and practice of service.
- To secure current self-sustaining financial model and continue to contribute financially to WPC and ASU.

Key Activities and Partnerships

- Student Education
- Problem-Focused Research
- Executive and Professional Development
- Corporate Membership

The Annual Compete Through Service Symposium

“is the gathering of the lions, the place where the best come to learn from one another.”

Dale Dauten, Nationally Syndicated Columnist
This unique, annual learning experience was designed by the Center for Services Leadership, the country’s leading and most respected academic research center focused on the subject of services. The Symposium has a proven track record of providing executives with effective tools to enable their companies to compete through the strategic use of service.

The event gathers together senior executive speakers from a variety of industries who provide mini-case studies in services innovation. We combine them with academicians and thought-leaders who show the broader perspective. The event brings the over 250 senior-level participants attendees out of their industry myopia and generates fresh ideas on how to infuse customer-focus in their organization.

Sponsorship of the “Compete Through Service” Symposium offers a tremendous opportunity to support the work of the Center for Services Leadership, while affiliating your organization with the leading university program in services.

Put your marketing dollars to work with one of our cost-effective sponsorship packages. You’ll gain exposure to over 250 services thought leaders at the event, plus many more through our marketing campaign.

By sponsoring the event, your company also makes it possible for us to offer generous discounts rates for non-profits and universities and keep our general tuition rates very competitive. Further, the profits from the Symposium represent a substantial source of funding for the work of the Center throughout the year. You will also be able to use a portion of your sponsorship investment as a tax deductible contribution.

The amount of exposure your firm receives will depend on the level of sponsorship.

Marketing Reach

Your organization will receive positive exposure in its affiliation as a sponsor of the Compete Through Service Symposium in various ways. The Center promotes the Symposium via a variety of channels such as email campaigns, social media, and content marketing via the CSL blog. We also place an advertisement in the W. P. Carey School of Business’ Alumni magazine, which has over 70K direct mail subscribers, and over 100K electronic subscribers.

The amount of exposure your firm receives will depend on the level of sponsorship.

Compete Through Service Symposium

Tech that Propels the Future of Service and Mastering Service Culture

Tech that Propels the Future of Service – Implementing and managing technological resources and tools is essential for any organization. In our age, the tech environment is constantly changing. At CTS, we will explore how technology – especially disruptive technologies – and data will be shaping the landscape of the service world. We will look at how tech both drives and elevates existing services as well as how it creates entirely new service offerings and businesses.

Mastering Service Culture – Despite ever changing technology, culture remains at the heart of any service business. Without a strong service culture and the people dedicated to uphold it, service experiences will fail. Technology can be bought, but culture must be built over time, and often is hard to imitate. People are also a company’s most important asset and a major source of competitive advantage. CTS will provide insights, cases, and tools on how to recruit, train, retain, and LEAD people in order to grow and cultivate a true culture of service within your organization.
The Symposium is comprised of approximately 250 leaders from Fortune 500 to entrepreneurial firms from many industries, including health, IT, telecom, financial services, manufacturing, entertainment and travel, etc.

Our attendees are senior and emerging executives – Over 65% of Symposium attendees are classified as CEO, President, Executive Vice President, Senior Vice President, Director, or key managers. More than 65% work in B2B settings.

Our attendees are key decision-makers from diverse functional areas: marketing, operations, human resources, etc. The Symposium features both a national and global representation of attendees.

An attendee list from past events is available upon request.
